Activating Activity: Help Wanted Ad

Purpose: To spark conversation about the topic, establish readiness for further exploration, and create a vehicle for recalling or summarizing important information (adapted from Lipton & Wellman, 2011).

Directions:

- Jot down 2–3 skills for both self-awareness and self-management here:

- In pairs, create a “Help Wanted” ad based on the skills of self-awareness and self-management. Be ready to share your ad with the full group.

Activating Activity: Help Wanted Ad

- Purpose: To spark conversation about the topic, establish readiness for further exploration, and create a vehicle for recalling or summarizing important information.
- Directions:
 - > Individually, take 3 minutes to jot down 2–3 skills for self-awareness and self-management in your playbook (p. 22).
 - > In pairs, create a Help Wanted Ad based on the skills of self-awareness and self-management.
 - > Be ready to share the ad with the full group.

The Definition of Social Awareness

The ability to understand the perspectives of and empathize with others, including those from diverse backgrounds, cultures, and contexts.

Save the Last Word For Me

- Purpose: To clarify and expand your thinking around a text or document, and to build one another's thinking without entering a dialogue.
- Read the article: "Social Awareness: What is it? Why is it Important?"
 - Identify what you consider to be the 2–3 most significant ideas and highlight those passages.
- In small groups, follow the Save the Last Word for Me protocol in your playbook (p. 23).

Case Scenario

Personal SEL Reflection: Social Awareness

Social Awareness		Very difficult	Difficult	Easy	Very easy
EMPATHY AND COMPASSION	I can seek to understand a person's perspective and feelings.
	I can pay attention to the feelings of others and recognize how my words and behavior impact them.
	I show care for others when I see that they have been harmed in some way.
PERSPECTIVE TAKING	I can work to learn about the experiences of people of different identities, including different ethnicities, religions, sexual identities.
	I can learn from those who have different opinions than me.
	I can ask others about their experience & perspective before offering my version of events.
UNDERSTANDING SOCIAL CONTEXT	I can understand and explain the systemic, historical, and organizational forces that create barriers for particular groups of people.
	I honor and celebrate the cultural differences within my school community/workplace.
	I can recognize and articulate the strengths of young people and their families and view them as partners.

Case Scenario

>> Directions

- > Please review the case scenario about River Run Middle School, paying attention to adult social awareness skills on pages 42–46 in your playbook.
- > Reflect on the following questions as you read:
 - > How did adults display empathy and compassion?
 - > How did adults learn from and/or appreciate the different experiences of others?
- > As you read, use the table in your playbook on pages 26–27 to list examples and non-examples of the social awareness skills demonstrated in the case scenario.

Small Group Breakout

» As a small group discuss:

- > How did adults display empathy and compassion?
- > How did adults learn from and/or appreciate the different experiences of others?
- > What were examples and non-examples of social awareness in the case?
- > If time permits, identify examples of self-awareness and self-management.

Take Some Time To Self-Assess Your Social Awareness

>> Directions

- > Take 10 minutes to complete the Social Awareness portion of the Personal SEL Reflection Tool in your playbook (p. 49).
- > Reflect on the results of your assessment.
- > Select one behavior you would like to work on this month and:
 - > Set a goal for yourself
 - > Describe what steps you will take to accomplish your goal in the playbook (p. 22).
